

MARQUÉS DE RISCAL - SPAIN

In the heart of the Rioja wine-growing region, famous architect Frank O. Gehry created the most abstract hotel in the world for sophisticated guests. The hotel consists of several ashlar blocks pushed into each other. With its futuristic roof construction, 1,800 m² of titanium cladding that seems to float, it astonishes the beholder. The hotel has 43 modern rooms and 11 suites, an excellent restaurant, and an exquisite wellness area with an indoor pool and fitness centre. Not just the lounge and library on the roof of the hotel provide for a comfortable atmosphere, but also the components and systems of TROX.

TROX centralised air handling units from its Spanish production site provide for an economic air supply in the entire building and a comfortable atmosphere. The use of TROX jet nozzles guarantees an optimum, noiseless air distribution in high or large rooms, such as the corridors and restaurant.

With its high-quality products and short delivery terms, TROX is a reliable, preferred partner for prestigious buildings all over the world.
